We are pleased to invite you to join our round table discussion on the topic "Women's involvement in management and key decision-making positions within sports organizations". The round table will take place online on April 19th, 2024, starting at 10:00. It is organized as a part of the Erasmus Sport project Women4Sport, organized by five Olympic Committees from the region and two supporting organizations from Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Sports organizations play a crucial role in shaping sports culture and promoting equality in sports. However, in many of these organizations, women are underrepresented in managerial and decision-making positions. The aim of this round table is to explore the challenges women face in attaining high-level positions in sports organizations and to discuss ways to enhance their involvement and contribution in these key roles.

Our panel will include leading experts in sports management, female athletes, gender equality activists, and other relevant stakeholders who will share their experiences, perspectives, and proposals for change. We anticipate an engaging and productive discussion that will contribute to a better understanding and promotion of women's inclusion in sports management.

Please confirm your attendance by registering for participation through the REGISTER NOW button no later than April 8th, 2024. Feel free to forward this invitation to colleagues and individuals who may be interested in this topic.

Please note that the round table discussion will be conducted in English language.

We look forward to your participation and contribution to this important conversation.

Best regards,

[Women4Sport Management Board]
